Hi, I'm Raunaq.

Builder. Hacker. I like shipping things that are fast, native, and actually useful.

I wanted to build something I'd actually use every day.

I'm always switching tabs to check exchange rates, stock prices, or what time it is somewhere else. FluxBox puts all of that in the menu bar — one click, always there, never in the way.

Built with Tauri · Rust · React — native, tiny binary, no Electron
